THE SENTINEL.

Saturday, January 5, 1867.

The Illegality of Military Commissions—Opinion of the Supreme Court.

The opinions pronounced by the judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, on the 17th of December, in the case ex parte of Lambdin P. Milligan, declaring the illegality of his trial, for alleged conspiracy, before a military commission in Indiana, and in effect, ordering his discharge from prison, he having been convicted and condemned to death, having been printed and published. The case, it will be remembered, was brought before the United States Supreme Court on a certificate of division of opinion of the two judges of the United States Circuit Court of Indiana.

There are two opinions of the court. The one read by associate Justice Davis is elaborate in its defense of the construction and the rights of the citizens, and their protection in person and property. As has been stated, all the members of the Supreme Court agree upon that point—relating to habeas corpus, and to the question "Ought the court to issue a writ of habeas corpus and order his release?" On these two questions there was no difference of opinion. The third question, "Had the military commission the right to try Milligan?" produced the dissenting opinion, which was read by Chief Justice for himself, and Associate Wayne, Swayne and Miller, a minority of the court. In addition to the points already given of Mr. Justice Davis' opinion, the following extracts are made touching the controlling question in the case, of the jurisdiction of the military commission to try him and legally punish him, he being a citizen of Indiana and never a soldier or a sailor. Judge Davis says:

No graver question was ever considered by this court, nor one which more nearly concerns the rights of the whole people; for it is the birth right of American citizens, when charged with crime, to be tried and punished according to law. The power of punishment is alone through the means which the laws have provided for that purpose, and if they are ineffectual, there is an immunity from punishment, no matter how great an offender the individual may be, or how much his crimes have shocked the sense of justice of the country, or endangered its safety. By the protection of the law human rights are secured; withdraw that protection, and they are at the mercy of wicked rules, or the clamor of an excited people. If there was law to justify this military trial, it is not our province to interfere; if there was not, it is our duty to declare the nullity of the whole proceedings. The decision of this question does not depend on argument or judicial precedents, numerous and highly illustrative as they are. These precedents inform us of the extent of the struggle to preserve liberty and relieve those in civil life from military trials. The founders of our government were familiar with the history of that struggle, and secured, in a written constitution, every right, which the people had wrested from power during a conflict of ages. By that constitution, and the laws authorized by it, this question must be determined. The provisions of that instrument on the administration of criminal justice are too plain and direct to leave room for misconstruction or doubt of their true meaning. Those applicable to this case are found in that clause of the original constitution, which says "that the trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury;" and in the fourth, fifth and sixth articles of the amendments. The fourth proclaims the right to be secure in person and effects against unreasonable search and seizure; and direct that a judicial warrant shall not issue "without proof or probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation. The fifth declares "that no person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime unless on presentment by a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war, or public danger, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law." And the sixth guarantees the right of trial by jury in such a manner and with such regulations that, with upright judges, impartial juries, and an able bar, the innocent will be saved and the guilty punished. It is in these words: "In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defence."

The Constitution of the United States is a law for rulers and people, equally in war and in peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men, at all times, and under all circumstances. No doctrine, involving more pernicious consequences, was ever invented by the wit of man, than that any of its provisions can be suspended during any of the great exigencies of government. Such a doctrine leads directly to anarchy or despotism, but the theory of necessity, on which it is based, is false; for the government, within the constitution, has all the powers granted to it, which are necessary to preserve its existence, as has been happily proved by the result of the great effort to throw off its just authority.

A guarantee of freedom was broken when Milligan was denied a trial by jury. The great minds of the country have differed on the correct interpretation to be given to various provisions of the Federal Constitution, and judicial decisions have been often invoked to settle their true meaning; but until recently no one has ever doubted that the right of trial by jury was fortified in the organic law against the power of attack. It is now assailed; but if ideas can be expressed in words, and language has any meaning, this right—one of the most valuable in a free country—is preserved to every one accused of crime who is not attached to any army or navy or militia in actual service.

It is claimed that martial law covers with its broad mantle the proceedings of this military commission. The proposition is this: That in a time of war the commander of an armed force—if in its opinion the exigencies of the country demand it, and of which he is to judge, has the power, within the lines of his military district, to suspend all civil rights and their remedies, and subject citizens as well as soldiers to the rule of his will: and in the exercise of his lawful authority cannot be restrained, except by his superior officer or the President of the United States. If this position is sound to the extent claimed, then when war exists, foreign or domestic, and the country is subdivided into military departments for more convenience, the commander of one of them can, if he chooses, within his limits, on the plea of necessity, with the approval of the Executive, substitute military force for and to the exclusion of the laws, and punish all persons as he thinks right and proper, without fixed or certain rules.

The statement of this proposition shows its importance; for, if true, republican government is a failure, and there is an end of liberty regulated by law. Martial law, established on such basis, destroys every guarantee of the constitution, and effectually renders the "military independent of and superior to the civil power"—the attempt to do which by the King of Great Britain was deemed by our fathers such an offence, that they assigned it to the world as one of the causes which impelled them to declare their independence. Civil liberty and this kind of martial law cannot endure together; the antagonism is irreconcilable; and in the conflict one or the other must perish.

It is difficult to see how the safety of the country required martial law in Indiana. If any of her citizens were plotting treason the power of arrest could secure them, until the government was prepared for their trial, when the courts were open and ready to try them. It was as easy to protect witnesses before a civil as a military tribunal; and as there could be no wish to convict him except on sufficient legal evidence, surely an ordained and established court was better able to judge of this than a military tribunal composed of gentlemen not trained to the profession of the law.

Chief Justice Chase, in delivering the dissenting opinion, says that the third question, namely, "Had the military commission in Indiana, under the facts stated, jurisdiction to try and sentence Milligan?" must be answered negatively as an unavoidable inference from affirmative answers to the other two. The military commission could not have jurisdiction to try and sentence Milligan, if he could not be detained in prison under his original arrest or sentence, after the close of a session of the grand jury without indictment or other proceedings against him.

He also says emphatically: "We think that Congress had power, though not exercised, to authorize the military commission which was held in Indiana, but we do not put our opinion, that Congress might authorize such a military commission as was held in Indiana, upon the power to provide for the government of the national forces. We by no means assert that Congress can establish and apply the laws of war where no war has been declared or exists.

Where peace exists, the laws of peace must prevail. What we do maintain is, that when the nation is involved in war, and some portions of the country are invaded, and all are exposed to invasion, it is within the power of Congress to determine in what States or districts such great and imminent public danger exists as justifies the authorization of military tribunals for the trial of crimes and offences against the discipline or security of the army, or against the public safety.

In Indiana, for example, at the time of the arrest of Milligan and his co-conspirators, it is established by the papers in the record that the State was a military district, was the theatre of military operations, had been actually invaded, and was constantly threatened with invasion. It appears, also, that a powerful secret association, composed of citizens and others, existed within the State, under military organization, conspiring against the draft, and plotting insurrection, the liberation of the prisoners of war at various depots, the seizure of the State and national arsenals, armed co-operation with the enemy, and war against the national government.

We cannot doubt that, in such a time of public danger, Congress had power, under the constitution, to provide for the organization of a military commission and for trial by that commission of persons engaged in this conspiracy. The fact that the Federal courts were open was regarded by Congress as a sufficient reason for not exercising the power; but the fact could not deprive Congress of the right to exercise it. Those courts might be open and undisturbed in the execution of their functions, and yet wholly incompetent to avert threatened danger, or to punish, with adequate promptitude and certainty, the guilty conspirators.

We have confined ourselves to the question of power. It was for Congress to determine the question of expediency. And Congress did determine it. That body did not see fit to authorize trials by military commission in Indiana, but by the strongest implication prohibited them. With that prohibition we are satisfied, and should have remained silent if the answers to the question certified had been put on that ground, without denial of the existence of a power which we believe to be constitutional and important to the public safety—a denial which, as we have already suggested, seems to draw in question the power of Congress to protect from prosecution the members of military commissions who acted in obedience to their superior officers, and whose action, whether warranted by law or not, was approved by that upright and patriotic President under whose administration the republic was rescued from threatened destruction.

We think that the power of Congress, in such times and in such localities, to authorize trials for crimes against the security and safety of the national forces, may be derived from its constitutional authority to raise and support armies and to declare war, if not from its constitutional authority to provide for governing the national forces.

We have no apprehension that this power, under our American system of government, in which all official authority is derived from the people, and exercised under direct responsibility to the people, is more likely to be aroused than the power to regulate commerce or the power to borrow money. And we are unwilling to give our assent by silence to expressions of opinion which seem to us calculated, though not intended, to cripple the constitutional powers of the government, and to augment the public dangers in times of invasion and rebellion.

Mr. Justice Wayne, Mr. Justice Swayne and Mr. Justice Miller concur with us in these views.

Saturday Evening, Jan. 5, 1867.

The Union Register.

This is the title of a new Weekly paper just issued at Greensboro', without any responsible name. It is printed on new type and good paper and make as respectable appearance. We have received the impression that the funds for its publication were chiefly raised at the North. It is published by a Union Publishing Company. We certainly have no objection to its name, nor to any proper efforts to promote the Union cause, for we are heartily and conscientiously devoted to the Union and the Constitution, but not to the Radical method of promoting them, which this "Union Register" is designed to advance. It advocates the most thorough measures proposed by "Julian's bill," and objects to the halfway tests proposed either by the Holden-Pool bill or the Stevens' bill, containing the same oath. The "Register" goes the whole animal or none, and, acting consistently, unhesitatingly cuts off from the so-called Union men, or, more properly, the Holdenites, in the following remarks in reference to the Holden-Pool test oath:

"We have several objections to this bill, though some of its provisions, for instance that in regard to suffrage, are eminently just and liberal. As a whole, however, we do not see that it would practically be any better than the existing state of affairs. It is very doubtful if any rebel, of any intelligence, would be cut off by the operation of the oath prescribed. There were few men of intelligence who in March 1864 were not convinced that the Confederacy was a failure, and therefore, so far as they were concerned, opposed to the continuance of the war. But whether they were or not, they could easily take the oath without danger of conviction for perjury, for it is impossible for any human tribunal to decide upon a man's thought and motive. In the inmost recesses of his heart, a man may wish this or that, but we cannot know it.

Again, the bill makes an unjust distinction. There is certainly no reason why a man who was a rampant rebel in 1861, who entered heart and soul into secession and the war, but who, after a taste of battle and campaigning, contracted a dislike tor it, and came home, to act as a conscript officer, and force his neighbors in, and who, by March 1864, had concluded that the Confederacy was a lost case, should be regarded with any more favor than a man who stood fast for the Union in 1861, '62 and 63, but having less foresight, succumbed and gave in his adhesion in 1864. In fact, if there is any class of rebels, who deserve special consideration at the hands of our government, it is those who were the last to succumb to the pressure of rebellion. This bill merely offers a premium to those who were the first to back out of rebellion, though they may have been the first to embrace it and the most influential in inducing others to go with them. This is a basis of reconstruction which honest, earnest rebels might well term unjust."

Moreover, the "Register" gives indications of ability, sincerity and honesty, and a temper and decency far superior to any paper in the State advocating Radical principles. For these reasons we place it on our exchange list, hoping that we may have no cause in future to change our opinion. We admire honesty and straight-forwardness any where. The Sentinel has never had an unkind word or feeling for a Union man who honestly and openly avowed his sentiments in becoming language before the war, or during the war, or since the war, and for the same reason it respects any man, who, from honest convictions, before the war was a Union man or secessionist, who prompted by his convictions of duty went into the war, on either side, and sustained it with all his powers till the close, and who, if a Confederate, surrendered in good faith, took the oath of amnesty and now supports the Union and the Constitution to the best of his ability. However much we may have differed in opinion with any man, if he shows himself an honest, steady man to his convictions and principles, we respect him. Hence it is we insist upon it, that the only reliable men in the South, that can be depended upon in future, are those who were and have been conscientious Union men all the time, and those equally honest, who were secessionists, or, being Union men, became earnest war men and sustained the Southern cause to the last, and are now avowed friends of the Constitution and the Union. "Latter saints," "red strings," shifters, now one thing and then another, we have no confidence in.

Another Canard.

It will be seen, by our telegraph, to-day, that the Washington Star publishes another canard from this place, in regard to the enforcement of the law in the case of freedmen for larceny, &c. There is a recklessness in the statements of Radical Raleigh letter-writers, who keep themselves unknown, which is unaccountable.

It is untrue, and we challenge the proof, that a single instance of whipping has occurred in the State in the case of a freedman, or any one else, for the purpose of degrading an individual or to prevent his voting.

Nor is it true, we think, that at any one term of any of our Courts sixty persons have been whipped. And we believe it is equally false, that the conversation, alleged to have taken place between members of the Legislature, ever took place. Rumors originating with confessed eaves-droppers cannot be relied upon.

THE WHIPPING POST AT THE HUB.—Boston and Massachusetts are awfully shocked that a colored criminal adult has been whipped in North Carolina under a law older than the State, and which treats black and white criminals pecisely alike. To show how some people can strain at a gnat and swallow a camel, statistical information furnished by the Boston Social Science Association shows that during the past year 18,744 children in the Boston schools had been chastised. In many of these cases the punishment inflicted was of the severest kind. Male teachers have been known to use the rulers so roughly that the victims have been confined to a bed of sickness as a consequence. The use and abuse of corporal punishment in schools is undergoing some examination in our literary Athens, and perhaps investigation will lead to improvement. News Verrons.—N. Y. Express.

Our State Charities.

Report of the Physician and Superintendent of the Insane Asylum of North Carolina, for the year ending Nov. 1, 1866. Raleigh: Wm. E. Pell, State Printer.

Dr. Fisher's report of the operations of the State Insane Asylum for the past year, with accompanying papers and statements, makes a pamphlet of some thirty pages, and is replete with interesting information bearing upon the benefits and results of this noble charity.

The Superintendent sets out with an expression of thankfulness at the uniform good health which has prevailed in the institution for the past year.

Forty-seven patients were discharged during the year ending Nov, 1, 1866,—leaving 165 in the Asylum at that date, of whom 82 were males and 83 females.

Among the many influences which are attempted to be used as moral means upon the inmates, the most important one is that of voluntary manual labor under their respective attendants. No effort has been made to keep an accurate estimate of the number of hours in which this labor has been performed, or of the amount of work executed. Some idea of the latter may be formed, when we mention that the extensive farm and garden attached to the institution (for the inauguration of which Dr. Fisher deserves great credit,) have been worked principally by the male patients, and that the estimated value of the products for the year 1866 was $4,392,60. Among the items we notice 19,000 head of cabbage, 250 bushels of tomatoes, 200 bushels of turnips, 589 bushels of sweet potatoes, 470 bushels of beets, 1000 cantelopes, 130 bushels of Irish potatoes, &c.

In the Female Department, there were made 144 shirts, 152 pairs of pants, 83 bed-spreads, 87 dresses, 95 pairs of socks, and many other articles; while the average number of pieces mended per week amounted to 175.

It is mentioned by Dr. Fisher, to the praise of the female patients, that, as a class, they are far more industrious and disposed to employment than the males. So that it will be seen that the same characteristics obtain in the Asylum as out of it.

During the something over ten years that the Institution has been in existence, there have been 693 inmates, who have enjoyed its benefits. Of those who have been discharged, 172 have been regarded as restored to such a degree of soundness of mind, as to admit of resuming their former positions in society and of engaging in the various occupations of life. Many others, though not restored, were, by the influences of regular systematic treatment, so much improved as to justify their friends in removing them again to the family circle.

The estimated cost of maintaining a patient is about $250 per annum, and it is shown, by the statistics of eighteen similar institutions in various parts of the country, that this is about the average cost.

An exhibit of patients received into, continuing in, and discharged from, the Asylum, from Oct. 31, 1864, to Nov. 1, 1866, shows the causes of insanity to have been, in great part, as follows: Ill health 27, the war 18, epilepsy 17, domestic trouble 12, intemperance 10, masturbation 9, loss of husband 6, hereditary 7, fever 5, religious excitement 4, jealousy 2, blow on head 3, unrequited love 3, bad temper 2, accouchment 2, spasms 2, disappointment 1, change of life 1, Jno. Brown raid 1, fright 2, use of opium 2, use of tobacco 1, hard study 1, fear of starvation 1, &c.

The ages at which insanity is supposed to have commenced with the above are: Less than five years, 3; between five and ten 4; between ten and fifteen, 6; fifteen and twenty, 33; twenty and twenty-five, 35; twenty-five and thirty, 37; thirty and thirty-five, 27; thirty-five and forty, 26; forty and fifty, 27; fifty and sixty, 18; sixty and seventy, 6; unknown 65.

We might go on and compile other striking facts from this very comprehensive and satisfactory report, but we have not the space to devote to them. The state of the institution, as set forth therein, affords the best commentary upon Dr. Fisher's fitness for his responsible position and upon the judicious administration of the excellent Board of Supervisors. No one can rise from its perusal without an emotion of gratitude and pride that our good old State has fostered so beneficent an institution.

We shall take pleasure, in our next, in referring to the report of Mr. Palmer, the efficient Superintendent of our other noble State charity, the Institution for the Deaf, Dumb and the Blind, and collating some of the more interesting particulars connected with its successful operation.

Memorial.

The following is the paper that the "loyal men" of this State are sending through the country to be signed and then forwarded to Thad. Stevens, at Washington. We have never seen the precious document, but suppose the strikers here are on the alert and active, and have or may secure the signatures of several freedmen to it.] There are very few if any white men in old Mecklenburg County who are corrupt enough to put their "fist" to it. If they are mean enough to do it they are ashamed to own it. Now the respectable colored man may, through ignorance, commit this act, but certainly few even of them will do it understandingly. Holden calculates on a well signed paper from Gaston. It may be that it may come. If so, how have the noble people of that once glorious county fallen, through bad and treacherous leaders, from their high estate! But we do not believe that one hundred names can be got even there if the facts are truly represented.—Charlotte Times.

A fashionably dressed young lady was swinging a lovely moire antique and a monstrous tilter along the street yesterday, when just in front of a certain store she brought the heel of her dainty gaiter-boot down upon the caudal narrative of a little black and tan terrier, who was lazily basking in the sun. Doggy grew indignant, resenting the affront, and, watching his opportunity, inserted a full set of teeth in the calf of her leg. She did not shriek with anguish, and no blood flowed from the ghastly wound. Doggy made a slight mistake that time, if he really meant "business."—[St. Louis Times.

STATE NEWS.

—The Newbern papers, containing an account of the tournament, failed to reach us. We condense an account from the Goldsboro' News:

Twenty-two Knights appeared, and engaged in the riding, which was pronounced to be excellent. The address of Gov. Vance was short "but it was one of those happy little efforts so peculiar to him." He remarked upon the unity of feeling manifested that day by the Southern people and those from the North, who are residents among us, four of whom were then before him to contend for the honors of the day. He trusted this feeling would become universal, and believed it would, when the passions had cooled, excited by the late unfortunate war, &c.

The successful Knights were Messrs. J. M. Smith, of Newbern; J. D. Laroque, of Craven; J. E. Matthews, of Newbern; B. H. Tyson, of Wilson.

The Queen and Maids of Honor were Miss Carrie McLacklan, of Newbern; Miss Nannie Brock, Kinston; Miss Sadie Benners, Newbern; Miss Adams, Wilson.

Mr. J. M. Rulifson was the winner of the prize bridle and saddle.

—The Merchant's Bank building was sold, in Newbern, on Thursday, for the sum of $9,400. Mr. Wm. P. Moore was the purchaser.

—There were three hundred marriages in Wilmington the past year,—157 whites and 143 blacks. The number of negro couples who have come forward and acknowledged their cohabitation as man and wife, and received certificates of the acknowledgement, since May 7, 1866, has reached 1,659. We glean these items from the Journal.

NO WHAR IN PURTICKLER,
January the 4,
in a powerful cole spell.

Mistur Edditure:—Ive jest heern a report which it shocks me the wust of enny thing ive hearn in ten yur. Its got surkerlated about here that Guvner Holdens bin to Washintun, and sum uv them air skounduls thar has pizened him in sich a way that hes turnt to be a plum nigger, black as tair. I loud it wuz a joke at fust, but succumstanses looks that way mighty strong; for I heern that Kongruss was a fixin a law fur who shud voat in North Calliny, and tuk in all the niggers to voat bekase of they diddent Guvner Holdin cuddent voat; and then I heern sqair Jones a reedin in the Sentinul yisterday that when Guvner Holdin cum back to Rolly sum uv the niggers sed he was wun uv them now.

All this skeers me powerful, an I wanter no of its raly so. I hate to ax the Guvner, and so ive rit to yu about it. Ive allers been a frend of the Guvner, an tuk the Standud menny yurs. I use ter be the rankest kind uv a seceder afore the war, in fact I allers jest thort whatever the Standud thort about matters an things in ginl & purtickler. When the war begin to git purty tite, and it peared like the yankeys wus gwine to git us, I thort it was time fur pease & so I stil hung on to Guvner Holdin and jined the red strings, but it never dun me no good. When Shurman wus a cummin I sot the old wunmun to dyin an spinnin red yarn, and I wisht I may die ded ef I diddent have red strings tied roun evry thing on the lot, even to the turky gobbler an the ole settin hen, an ile be teetotally dad smasht ef they diddent steal evry thing in the house and called me a durn coward, an axed me why I wernt in the army, an all sich.

That sorter staggernated me, but I still hung on to the Guvner, and do yit, tho hes quit sendin me the Standud. But ef heas turnt to be a nigger ile be dad limmed ef I can stand that, fur ef thar is enny thing I hate its a nigger, an I dont keer who noes it. I hated them as owned niggers, an allers sed with Guvner Holdin that it was a rich mans war an a po mans fite; an then niggers allers turnd up thar noses at me (or tride to turn um up, jest as a fat pig will curl his tale, an ef he aint got no tale heal try to curl it,) an thay called me po bokra an maid all kinder fun af me bekase I had no niggers; an sense thave bin free thay allers acts respecful to a man as earned niggers, an when thay meet him its allers tetch thar hat an say good mornin mars Bob, good mornin mars Jim; but when thay meet me thay look yon way as ef they never seed me, an strut by, and when thay git past I heer um say, darn po bokra.

Now, Mister Edditurs, ive allers bin a member uv the church an attended meeting regular, and I never fout none in my life, an I bekum a legal man, so-cauld, jest when Guvner Holdin did, and I dont wanter hurt no boddy, but when thay talk about lettin niggers vote—well, bein a perfesser I never have cussed, but it makes me think durn it, powerful, as the Duchman sed.

I tell you, sur, a po man is as good as a rich man, an we aint a goin to be put on the same footin with a nigger.

Well, ive rit too much, an ime so mad I dont no what ive sed. Plese anser my question rite off. Yourn tel deth, Rail Road Meeting in Surry.

A large number of the citizens of Surry County met at Mt. Airy, on the 1st. day of January, 1867, for the purpose of considering the question of Rail Road communiections.

The meeting was organized by calling William Haymore, Esq., to the Chair, and appointing John M. Brower and Joseph Bitting Secretaries.

At the request of the Chairman, Mr. J. F. Graves briefly explained the object of the meeting.

Mr. R. S. Gilmer moved that a committee of five gentlemen be appointed to propose business for the meeting.

The motion being adopted, the Chairman appointed Messrs. R. S. Gilmer, J. W. Brower, J. C. Normon, John Banner and J. F. Graves, as the committee.

The committee retired, and, during their absence, the meeting was ably addressed by Mr. J. C. Gilmer.

The committee returned and reported the following resolutions:

"We, a portion of the people of Surry County, having assembled to-day to consult together and, if possible, to devise some means to infuse a spirit of enterprise among us, to developе the mineral, manufacturing and agricultural resources of our section of the country, and to restore and increase its former prosperity, have considered the subject candidly, in all its bearings, and have concluded that increased facilities for transportation would aid more than all other means in the accomplishment of our object. We have further considered that, although we are now mainly dependent on the Rail Roads of Virginia, yet, as citizens of North Carolina, desiring to promote the interest of the whole State, we ought first to seek a connection with the Rail Roads of our own State:

Therefore resolved, That we request our representatives in the present Legislature, both in the Senate and Commons, to use their best efforts to procure a charter for a Rail Road from some point on the North Carolina Rail Road to Mt. Airy and the Virginia line, and to procure aid from the State to assist in the construction of the said road.

Resolved, That by extending the said Rail Road to the Virginia and Tennessee Rail Road, the vast deposites of lime, gypsum and salt in Southwestern Virginia will be opened to the people of the whole State.

Resolved, That the connection by Mt. Airy, with the Virginia and Tennessee Rail road, would greatly promote the interest of all the Rail Roads in the State, and especially of the North Carolina Rail Road, and the proposed connection with Fayetteville and Wilmington.

Resolved, That we call upon the people of Fayetteville and Wilmington to aid us in our efforts to open Rail Road communication with them.

The resolutions having been read, on motion of Mr. William M. Banner were unanimouly adopted.

The meeting was then addressed by Mr. R. S. Gilmer, Dr. Jos. Hollinsworth, John Banner and J. W. Brower in a brief and pertinent manner.

On motion, resolved, that the proceedings of this meeting be sent to the Sentinel and the Standard for publication.

The meeting then adjourned.

PERSONAL.—During our recent trip to Stokes we had the pleasure of meeting with Dr. Westmoreland, the Commoner for that county. Dr. W. although he is not a great talking member, is a great worker, and never allows an opportunity to pass when he can defend or forward the interests of his constituents. He is a member that dont believe that any question that comes before that body is either too great for his comprehension or too small for his attention. The Dr. has been a warm supporter of all measures for public improvements in the State which in the end will be the best measures for the "rellief of the people" that our legislators can adopt.—Winston Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.

SENATE.—The memorial of the Legislature of Montana, asking the establishment of a Surveyor General's office, was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

The Committee on Foreign Relations was instructed to enquire into the relations between France and Mexico, and the probability of Maximilian's maintaining himself.

The bill repealing sec. 30 of the Bill "to suppress the rebellion," &c., was taken up. On an amendment to repeal the entire act, Reverdy Johnson spoke elaborately. He had urged the Executive to issue a general amnesty. Some of the first jurists of the country, many of them Republicans, and some of the best English jurists, had expressed the opinion that the moment belligerent rights were granted, the commission of treason was impossible. He spoke of Mr. Davis's trial, and said that, no matter whose fault it was, the matter was a blot on American civilization.

The bill repealing the 30th section was passed by a vote of 27 to 7. The repealed section is as follows:

"That the President is hereby authorized, at any time hereafter, by proclamation, to extend to persons who may have participated in the present rebellion, in any State or part thereof, pardon and amnesty, with such exceptions, and at such times, and on such conditions, as he may deem expedient for the public welfare."

HOUSE.—The Committee on Ways and Means were instructed to enquire into the expediency of so modifying the tariff as to discriminate against slave-grown products.

After some unimportant business, the House went into committee of the whole and adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4, P. M.

To-day's Star contains the following:

"A communication has been received at the Freedmen's Bureau from an officer at Raleigh, N. C., calling its attention to the whipping of negroes by the civil authorities, ostensibly as a punishment for petty crimes, but, in fact, for the purpose of disqualifying them from using the elective franchise under the laws of N. C.—Should that right be granted them by Congress, it is stated that this practice is carried on in many counties,—sixty having been whipped in one county, during a recent session of a Court. A conversation was over-heard recently at the State-House between several members of the Legislature, when one said: "We are licking them in our part of the State, and, if we keep on, we can lick all of them by next year, and then none of them can vote!"

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.

Commissioner Wells' Revenue Report recommends a tax of one dollar per gallon on liquor, and opposes a reduction of the cotton tax.

[Our dispatch proceeds to give the other general features of the report, which we omit, for want of space. We shall give them before long in some other shape.]

The Gardner will case, in which a large amount of property is involved, has been decided by the Court of Appeals in favor of Mr. Gardner, the brother of Mrs. Ex-President Tyler, and against her.

Judge Grier is still indisposed, which delays the opinion on the test-oath.

The lobbies are rapidly filling with tariff partisans.

The Arkansas delegation visited the President again this morning, and were presented to the Cabinet and to Gen. Grant. The members were highly pleased with their reception. Mr. Hunter, Senator elect, made a brief speech, explaining the object of the mission. His remarks were well received, and Attorney General Stanberry, in reply, stated that Arkansas was considered already reconstructed.

The delegation dines to-morrow with Secretary Seward. The Secretary said that they never made speeches in the presence of their chief, but that, to-morrow, both he and his guests could talk matters over.

The members of the delegation have sent cards, to-day, to Sumner, Wade, Stevens, Foster, and others, and will call on them to-morrow.—A majority of the delegation will leave on Sunday, in time to reach Little Rock for the Legislature, which meets next Thursday—leaving some of their number to take care of the interests of Arkansas.

Afternoon Dispatches.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.

Brig. Gen. S. G. French, of Mississippi, a graduate at West Point, has been pardoned.

It is said that yesterday's repeal of the amnesty section will not affect the President's clemency programme, the best legal talent declaring that the Constitution gives him the power and that the section repealed was originally a mere Congressional flourish.

New Year at Rome.

ROME, Jan. 4.

Snow and Rumor at London

LONDON, Jan. 5.

A severe snow-storm commenced Wednesday, immense depths, blocking up highways &c. Vessels detained in every port. Poor of London suffering severely.

There was a rumor here and at Liverpool on change, yesterday, that President Johnson was dead. It had considerable effect to depress prices.

Washington Rumor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.

Mr. Stevens, it is stated, will introduce a resolution, on Monday, instructing the Judiciary committee to prepare a bill declaring the Southern districts in a state of seige, suspending habeas corpus, and providing for military governments until the States are regularly admitted.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan 5.

The Senate is not in session to-day.

Nothing doing in the House but speech-making. Mr. Stevens having the floor, was sharply catechized with regard to the non-finality of the amendment. He said that he voted for the admission of Tennessee, but would vote for no other without negro suffrage. Northern States disfranchising negroes should blush.

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twenty-sixth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and Dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Goerick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your Pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals.

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

J. MAGGIEL, M. D.

P. F. PESCUD AGENT FOR RALEIGH, FOR MAGGIEL'S PILLS AND SALVE.

NOTICE.—None genuine without the engraved trademark around each pot or box, signed by Dr. J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine Street, New York, to counterfeit which is felony.

HILLSBORO' MILITARY ACADEMY.

THIS well known and popular Institution is once more in successful operation, and is prepared for the reception of Cadets at any time. It is under the direction of a graduate, and for fifteen years, (up to the commencement of the war) a

Professor of the Virginia
MILITARY INSTITUTE, and a colleague of

STONEWALL JACKSON.

The course of the Institution is that of the Virginia Military Institute, and is such as to make the Academy a great

POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL.

A school of theoretical and applied science, in which Languages and Literature also receive a due share of attention. The discipline and instructions are on a Complete Military Basis.

The Faculty is for the present organized as follows: Superintendent and Professor of Military History, Strategy and Political Economy, and Instructor of Infantry and Cavalry tactics, GEN. R. E. COLSTON, late Professor of French, and of Military History, Strategy and Political Economy at the Virginia Military Institute, and late Brig. General C. S. A.

Until the appointment of additional Professors, Gen. Colston takes charge of the Department of French and English studies and Belles Letters.

Professor of Natural and Experimental Philosophy, Ordnance, Gunnery and instructor of Artillery tactics, Major D. TRUEHEART, Graduate of the Virginia Military Institute in 1850—afterwards Assistant Professor of the Va. Military Institute—attached to the United States Coast Survey—late Major and Chief of Artillery in the C. S. Army.

Professor of Mathematics, Civil and Military Engineering, Architecture, Topographical and Industrial Drawing, and Assistant Instructor of Infantry tactics, Maj. W. A. OBENCHAIN, "first distinguished Graduate," of his Class in the Virginia Military Institute, and for efficient and meritorious services during the war, promoted Captain of Engineers in the late C. S. Army.

Professor of Chemistry, Agricultural Chemistry, Geology and Mineralogy, Col. LEWELLYN HOXTON, "Distinguished graduate" of West Point Military Academy, and late Chief of Artillery to Hardee's Corps.

Professor of Latin, French, Ethics and Belles Lettres, to be appointed shortly.

Surgeons Drs. R. & W. S. STRUDWICK.

New appointments will be made, and the Chairs now filled will be subdivided as soon as the number of Cadets makes it desirable.

Applicants for Professorships must be gentlemen of Scientific and Military education, who have served in the field.

Candidates for admission as Cadets are advised to come without delay. Until the 1st. of February next, all those Cadets present at the Academy, will be pushed forward in their studies irrespective of classes, so as to enable them, at that time, to enter the most advanced classes for which they may be found qualified. By coming at once they may gain an entire year in the term of their education.
